

Ice Storm Impact for Saturday, 2/20/21 Deliveries

Updated Friday, 2/19/21 @ 3 pm

To our customers,

Based on the National Weather Center's forecast, we will be able to deliver on Saturday in all markets except for Shreveport.

We will make deliveries in Monroe on Saturday, which is not a normal delivery day in that market. So, please remember to place your order Friday by your normal 6 pm order window.

We do not anticipate having to issue any further storm watch delivery updates as we anticipate all markets being open for Monday deliveries. We hope that our communications this week have made it easy to understand when deliveries would be available to you.

Thank you sincerely for your business.
